

PUBLIC ISSUES FORUM - FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

The Global Dialogue Institute and
The Board of Governors of The Greater Philadelphia Philosophy Consortium

Presents:

The Fifth Annual Public Forum

Coping with Violence Done in the Name of Religion: A Dialogue

Saturday, March 27, 1999 - 1:00 - 5:00 p.m.
Haverford College - Sharpless Auditorium

Ashok Gangadean, Chair and Moderator

(Professor of Philosophy, Haverford College and Director of the Global Dialogue Institute)

EACH PRESENTATION WILL BE FOLLOWED BY A DISCUSSION

Featured Opening Address By:

- 1:00 p.m. Howard Kee, (Professor of Religion Emeritus, Bryn Mawr College)
"The Roots of Violence in Judaism, Christianity and Islam"
- 1:30 p.m. Michael Sells, (Professor of Religion, Haverford College)
"The Current Impact of Islamic Holy War, and the Prospects for Resolution"
- 2:30 p.m. Gwen Borowsky, (Director of Education, Liberty Museum)
"The Program for Educational Leadership in Removing Religious and Racial Prejudice"
- 3:30 p.m. Coffee Break
- 3:45 p.m. Noel J.J. Farley (Professor of Economics at Bryn Mawr College)
"Overcoming Religious Conflict in Northern Ireland."
- 4:30 p.m. Open Dialogue
- 5:15 p.m. Reception - Gest Center, 2nd floor Lounge

For more information call Professor Howard Kee (Program Convenor)
(610) 896-1031 abarone@haverford.edu