

Timothy Lambie-Hanson

Department of Economics
Haverford College
370 Lancaster Avenue
Haverford, PA 19041

Phone: (510) 717-6370
Email: tlambiehan@haverford.edu
Homepage: <https://sites.google.com/site/timlambiehanson>

Current Research Fields

Applied Microeconomics, Industrial Organization, Political Economics

Education

Ph.D. Economics, Suffolk University, 2013.

B.S. Mathematics and Physics, University of Richmond, 2005.

Teaching Experience

Haverford College

Introduction to Economics: Fall 2013, Spring 2014, Fall 2014

Crises: Fall 2014

Industrial Organization: Spring 2015

Intermediate Macroeconomics: Spring 2015

Drexel University

Principles of Macroeconomics: Fall 2013, Winter 2014

Suffolk University

Undergraduate:

Applied Statistics: Fall 2009, Spring 2010, Spring 2011

Principles of Microeconomics: Fall 2011, Spring 2012

Principles of Macroeconomics: Fall 2010

Applied Econometrics: Fall 2012

High School Teacher

Math and Science Teacher, Summit Necessary Small High School, Mount Diablo Unified School District, Concord, CA: Fall 2006 - Spring 2007.

Publications

“Campaign Contributions as Valence,” 2013, Public Choice 157, 1-2: 3-24.

“Party-Bosses vs. Party-Primaries: Quality of the Legislature under Different Selectorates” (with Haldun Evrenk and Yourong Xu), 2013, European Journal of Political Economy 29: 168-182.

Working Papers

“Agency and Incentives: Evidence from the Mortgage Foreclosure Industry” (with Lauren Lambie-Hanson) revise and resubmit Review of Industrial Organization

“Organizational Form of Foreclosure Attorneys and Outcomes in the Loan Loss Mitigation Process” (with Lauren Lambie-Hanson)

“Shared Risk in n -player Games” (with Christopher Lambie-Hanson)

Presentations

Haverford College Economics Colloquium, February 2014

International Conference on Game Theory, Stony Brook, July 2013

International Industrial Organization Conference, Boston, May 2013

Association for Public Policy Analysis and Management, Baltimore, November 2012

North American Summer Meeting, Econometric Society, Washington University, St. Louis, June 2011

Association for Public Economic Theory, Indiana University, June 2011

Public Choice Society Annual Meeting, San Antonio, March 2011