Facing History and Ourselves (FHAO) is an international education organization headquartered in Brookline, MA, whose mission is to engage students of diverse backgrounds in an examination of racism, prejudice, and antisemitism in order to promote the development of a more humane and informed citizenry. By studying the historical development and lessons of the Holocaust and other genocides, students make the essential connection between history and the moral choices they confront in their own lives.

The selected intern will work in the Program department of the Brookline, Massachusetts office. Internships at FHAO are usually a mixture of core projects and administrative support. Past projects have included:

- Whole school review: performing meta-research; outlining the importance of school environment, school leadership and teacher efficacy; interviewing a number of FHAO’s regional offices to determine the types and scope of the region’s whole school work; collecting documents from each region and outlining their approach to whole school work.
- Tabulation and analysis of seminar attendance: reviewing and tabulating attendance at FHAO’s past seminars, creating visuals, and analyzing attendance trends.
- Lesson development: working with the Jewish Ed team to study monuments in Poland and create lessons for high school students on community reactions to event memorialization.
- Reviewing California district Local Control and Accountability Plans (LCAP) to determine potential FHAO professional development opportunities.
- Utilizing the FHAO Resource Library, listening to guest speakers, and attending summer workshops (space and time permitting).

Eligibility and Application Information: Applicants must submit an application form, your transcript (unofficial is fine), and a recommendation form completed by a faculty member. Apply through CPGC’s website: http://www.haverford.edu/cpgc.

Stipend: This internship begins the second week of June and last 10 weeks (some flexibility may be possible). The CPGC provides a stipend for travel, lodging, local transportation, food, and the summer earnings expectation for students who receive financial aid. FHAO can provide guidance to selected interns searching for housing in the Brookline location. Students may be able to work in regional offices.

CPGC’s Internship Program: All CPGC internships are part of a larger framework that goes beyond just a grant, and include preparatory experiences as well as follow-up requirements. designed to make interns’ experiences as meaningful and impactful as possible. Interested applicants must meet with Associate Director Janice Lion.

Pre-internship programming:
- All interns will gather during the late afternoon and evening of Friday, April 13, 2018 for a pre-departure retreat.
- Interns will attend conversations and presentations during the Seeking Global Citizenship Symposium offered throughout the week of April 10 – 14, 2018 (this Symposium is also open to the bi-co community).
- All Philadelphia area interns will attend a dynamic week of activities to build capacity for applied ethical action and leadership during the week of May 20-25 (based on campus and in Philadelphia).

Post-internship requirements:
- Interns will attend a four-hour returning intern retreat held at the beginning of the fall semester to debrief about their internship and connect their experiences to Haverford and their own academic and extracurricular pursuits moving forward.
- Interns will create posters highlighting their internship experiences and will present them at an event in October.
- All interns are required to enroll in one of the following re-entry courses that best relates to their internship:
  - EDUC H200: Critical Issues in Education (Heather Curl)
  - EDUC H301: Curriculum and Pedagogy (Heather Curl)
  - EDUC B240: Qualitative Research (Chanelle Wilson-Poe)
  - ICPR H301: Development, Human Rights, and Transnational Injustices (Thomas Donahue)
  - ICPR H302: Bodies of Injustice: Health, Illness and Healing in Contexts of Inequality (Carol Schilling)
