The Center for Peace & Global Citizenship Fellowship with

The Center for Peace and Global and Hurford Center for the Arts and Humanities have paired up to offer a fellowship for a rising sophomore, junior, or senior at a unique social justice cultural organization based in Tulsa, Oklahoma (more information regarding fellowship details below). All application materials are due February 2nd, 2020.

Summer 2020 Internship Description
Under the supervision of the Woody Guthrie Center Archivist, and with the approval of the Woody Guthrie Center Archives Director, the student will focus on a community outreach/public engagement program and/or exhibit utilizing materials available in the archives to develop their theme. The archival collections of Woody Guthrie, Phil Ochs, and other special collections will serve as a basis for promoting social awareness of a selected issue still present in current social affairs.

The student is encouraged to use creative problem-solving skills and develop their project for an audience of varied individuals. This can be (but is not limited to) a specific community or community event such as: a nursing home, hospital, community center, arts-based organization, school, prison, convention center, or festival.

CPGC’s Program: This opportunity is part of a larger fellowship that offers a comprehensive preparatory and re-entry program along with funding and support during your summer engagement with the Woody Guthrie Center. Prior to the summer internship, CPGC and HCAH staff and friends will help students build on their passions and capacities for ethical engagement and social change action. Fellows continue their journey through activities in the fall, which includes enrolling in a re-entry course designed to further engagement with social justice theory and practice. More specific information about these crucial elements of the Fellowship program can be found on the CPGC website.

The 2020 CPGC Fellow cohort will meet on or near campus for a half-day retreat, and engage in other preparatory activities during the spring semester that will be relevant to their fellowships.

Application Information: Interested applicants must meet with the Domestic Fellowship Advisor, Ryan Rose (rose1@haverford.edu). This internship is open to Haverford first-years, sophomores, and juniors. Applicants must submit an application form, a cover letter, a transcript (an unofficial one is fine), and a recommendation form completed by a faculty member. Applications are done through CPGC’s website: http://www.haverford.edu/cpgc.

Stipend: This internship lasts 8-10 weeks. The CPGC and HCAH provide stipends for travel, lodging, food, and the summer earnings expectation for students who receive financial aid.
