

Bryn Mawr College and friends are proud to present

Freeman Hrabowski

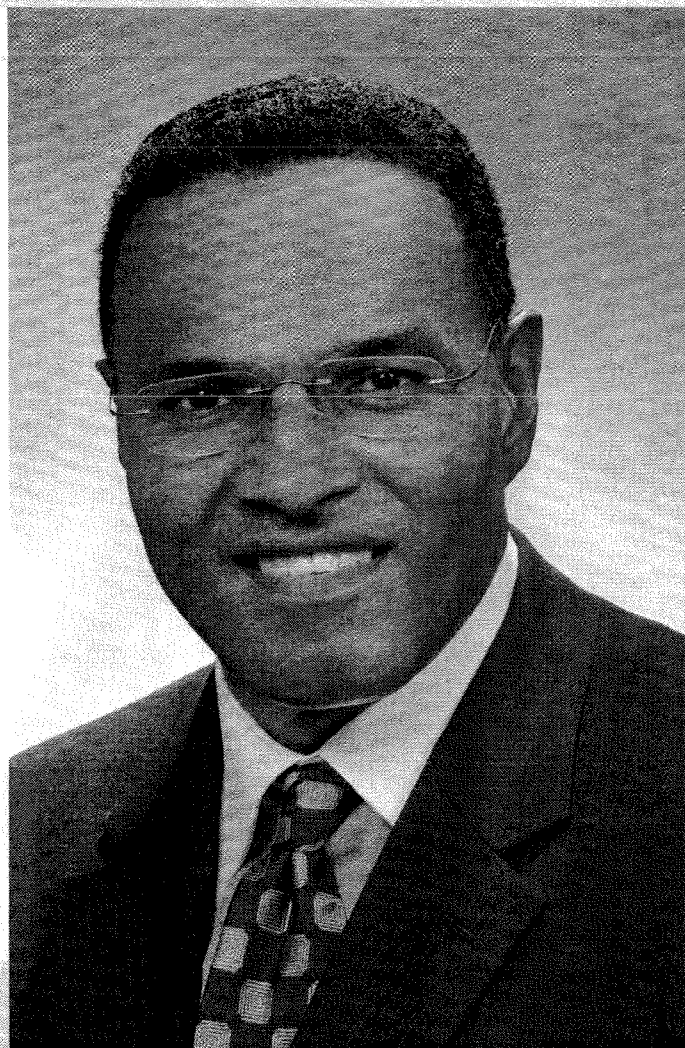

Strategies that Support Student Success in the Sciences

Wednesday, March 19

7 p.m.

Thomas Great Hall

Discussion and reception to follow

Sponsored by:

- Bryn Mawr College
Office of Intercultural Affairs, Social Justice Pilot Program, Endowed Lectures Fund, Mellon Mays Undergraduate Fellowship (MMUF) Program, and the Center for Science in Society
- Haverford College:
Office of Multicultural Affairs and Koshland Integrated Natural Science Center
- Math Science Partnership of Greater Philadelphia (MSPGP)
LaSalle University, Lincoln University, Northampton Community College, Villanova University and Widener University

Freeman A. Hrabowski, III, has served as president of the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, since May, 1992. He is a national expert on issues of minority student success in science and has written two books on this topic. Among his many accomplishments is the development of the Meyerhoff Scholarship Program, which has become one of the leading sources of minority students who pursue graduate degrees in the sciences and engineering.

For more information, contact Victor Donnay, vdonnay@brynmawr.edu.