“Testimonies in Art & Action: Igniting Pacifism in the Face of Total War”
An exhibition curated by J. Ashley Foster, visiting assistant professor of writing and fellow in the Writing Program, and students from her “Peace Testimonies in Literature and Art” 2015 writing seminars.

ON VIEW AT THE WHITEHEAD CAMPUS CENTER
Whitehead Campus Center, 2nd Floor, Cantor Fitzgerald Gallery
The exhibition gathers the works of 20 American artists—including Nan Goldin, Keith Haring, and Public Enemy’s Chuck D—who have all used the Berlin Wall as a site and symbol for weighing global forms of division.

Originally curated by Paul Farber for the Goethe-Institut in Washington, D.C. Farber is a visiting assistant professor and fellow in the Writing Program at Haverford.
